

Classification essay outline

Topic

Attention Getter:

Thesis:

Category 1

Category 2

Category 3

Support/examples

Support/examples

Support/examples

Conclusion

Types of Shoppers

(A Draft Classification Essay)

Working at a supermarket has given me a chance to observe the different ways human beings behave. I like to think of the shoppers as rats in a lab experiment, and the aisles are a maze designed by a psychologist. Most of the customers follow a dependable route, walking up and down the aisles, checking through my counter, and then escaping through the exit door. But not everybody is so dependable.

These are the three main types of unusual shoppers I have encountered while working as a cashier at the Piggly Wiggly. At least they help to keep things interesting!

Introduction

---

---

---

In my opinion _____ may be divided into _____ groups _____

---

Category #1

The first category of _____ consists of _____

---

---

---

---

---

---

Category #2

_____ a second category of _____

---

---

---

---

---

---

Category #3

A final category is _____

---

---

---

---

---

---

Conclusion

In conclusion, _____

---

---

---

---

---